

Sustaining Next-Level Human Performance

- #1 Things are the way they are because they got that way
- #2 84 – 94 percent of all human error can be directly attributed to process, programmatic, or organizational issues
- #3 People come to work wanting to do a good job
- #4 The people who do the work are the ones who have the answers

ERROR ELIMINATION FORMULA REVEALED

Let's be honest. Most of us think that mistakes simply happen - that human error is inevitable. After all, "to err is human," right? Wrong. Human error can be stopped. How do I know this? Immersed within the most highly regulated industry in the world for the past 23 years, I discovered the formula. Want to know the secret? Click the audio link below and listen. It just might be the most important 2 1/2 minutes you will ever invest for the future of your business.

The 'MAGICAL UPWARD SPIRAL'

> BREAK the Chain of Human Error

Is there a 'magic bullet'?

Here's a kick-in-the-rear piece of insight for you and your team:

Things are the way they are because they got that way.

You should now be asking, "Okay, so how do I figure out how things 'got that way?'"
